Get Your Park Pass Sticker!

You MUST have a valid Park Pass sticker on your helmet to teach in any terrain park. Taking your class into the park without a park pass is a violation of our teaching policies.

Sign up for an in-house Orange Extra Small or Green Small Park Pass clinic, or talk to your Training Manager if you qualify with other experience or certification.

Full details on park passes can be found in the R&G.

Download the Latest Training Calendar

Don't forget, the training calendar is posted to the website every week! You can download it as a PDF or an image.

Make sure to fill out the clinic feedback form for any recent clinics you've attended. We use your comments to help improve our clinic offerings and our trainers love hearing your feedback.

What to Do When You Can't Make it to Training

Can't make it to a clinic you signed up for? If you know you'll be unable to attend in advance, remove yourself from the clinic listing ASAP. It's the day of the clinic, please contact your supervisor.

We schedule trainers based on your clinic signups, so training no-shows affect both our budgets and our trainers' days - potentially leading to less training availability in the spring. Refer to the R&G for Key Behaviors for Training & Development.

What "Team" Means to Me - Ellen Post Foster

In case you missed it last time, we recorded 8 SKI/RIDE Talks at the Vilar on January 16th. The first video from that series is now available.

We'll release a new video every couple of weeks as the season goes on, so stay tuned for more!

Happy February!

Hopefully you've been out enjoying the awesome snow and bluebird condition these last few weeks.

Take the time to make some turns for yourself, train for certification, and get ready for the busy Presidents' Day Weekend.

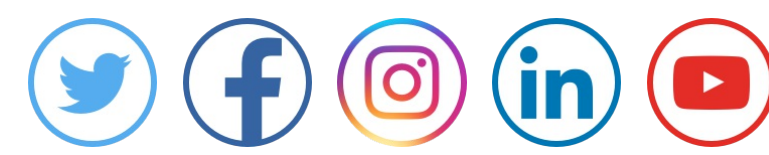

Look forward to seeing you out there for a few turns!

Let the snow fly!
